per cent bonds at from 126 to 126 1-2, principally at 126 1-2, making the total purchases to date ury last week paid out nearly $43500,000 for bonds purchased, the Washington cash statement of the Treasury as yet reflects only a small part of that loss of cash. The reason is that the Desuries with the cash paid out till the bonds are received, examined and cancelled and all the necessary entries have passed through the books; until then the amount paid out by the Sub-Treasary stands as cash on the Department's books.

The stock market opened this morning with something more nearly approaching a "boom" was a free buyer of all its favorites, and the ort" interest an its liberal purchases materially contributed to the early activity and excitement. On the other hand, there was a more citement. On the other hand, there was a more decided disposition to make realizing sales developed by the "Monday morning bulge" in prices tian has been seen before. Therefore, while the general situation is unchanged, and the final prospects of the course of the market remain unimpaired, it is not improbable that the chances for that long-talked-about "reaction" have been improved by the day's operations. Certain it is that board-room traders, both "bulls" and "bears," are less prepared for it now than they have been before. Still, we must repeat that this is not a one-man market, and that than they have been before. Still, we must repeat that this is not a one-man market, and that it is not a safe one in which to trade for "turnes" against its general course. Fluctuations are natural to all speculative markets; and the weight of to-day's transactions seems to indicate that there may possibly now be a greater one than there was during the last two weeks. Besides, to-morrow (Tuesday) will be a holiday in London, so that no support can be expected from there, a circumstance which the "bears" in our market may take advantage of. These thoughts are not predictions: only statements of the possibilities. The specially active stocks of the day were Reading, New-York and New-Ingland and St. Paul. Norfolk and Western preferred got out of its rut at about 47 and opened with an advance of 2 1-4 per cent, which it well maintained all day. It is pleasing to note a general advance in the first-class per cent, which it well maintained all day. It is pleasing to note a general advance in the first-class stocks, but Burlington and Quincy was specially weak, and, after opening up 1 3-4 at 127 and selling at 127 1-4, it declined to 124 5-8. The market generally suffered a material setback from the best figures in the last hour, but it generally closed higher than on Saturday, although rather feverish.

THE DAY IN THE BOND MARKET. Government bonds were dull at the Board and the bids for the 4 per cents were off 1-4 per cent. Annexed are the closing quotations:
